

Armed Services Biomedical Research Evaluation and Management Community of Interest (ASBREM COI)

Promotes planning and execution of Warfighter Performance and Health Protection initiatives around the globe. Coordinates execution of ASD R&E and ASD Health Affairs funding for Biomedical S&T / Advanced Development (6.1-6.7)

Biomedical Informatics & Health Info Systems and Technology

Military Infectious Disease

Military Operational Medicine

Combat Casualty Care

Medical Radiological Defense

Clinical and Rehabilitative Medicine

Medical Chem Bio Defense

Flagship Accomplishments

- Trauma products dramatically reduce battlefield mortalities
- First successful human hand, arm and face transplantations
- Adenovirus vaccinations provide $20M / year Return On Investment

Emerging Requirements

- Extended evacuation times & prolonged field care for global missions
- Front line support for Global Health Security (e.g., infectious disease)
- Sustained Readiness through Warfighter Resilience

Global Presence & Global Partnerships

World-Wide Impact

DoD Workforce

Industry

Academia

Other US Government Agencies

International Partners

Senior Leader Advisory Group
Interim COI Chair, Dr Sean Biggerstaff, DHA RDA

Science & Technology Advisory Group
STAG Chair, Dr Terry Allard, DON ONR

Advanced Development Advisory Group
ADAG Chair, Dr Ken Bertram, USA MPMC

ASBREM Executive Secretary
Col Russell Pinard, DHA RDA
russell.l.pinard.mil@mail.mil

